d) Manual

2010 Building a Johnsonian-Dobsonian-Newtonian reflector telescope. Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Calgary Centre. 34 pp, figs.

e) World Wide Web

My web page URL is <http://people.ucalgary.ca/~ndavid/Homepage> It includes:

2004 David, N. et al. Keyword bibliography of ethnoarchaeology and related topics (Version 4.1 – Oct. 2004). <http://homepages.ucalgary.ca/~ndavid/Homepage/#Eabib> I compiled this bibliography over several years but am no longer maintaining it. This, the most recent version, contains over 2000 records and provides a system of standardized keywords, rendering the bibliography, which can be downloaded without restriction in either Word or ProCite 4.0.3 format, searchable by any word processing software, though much less efficiently than by ProCite.

Since 2004, assisted by Judy Sterner, I author and maintain a web site on the Sukur UNESCO World Heritage site <http://www.sukur.info/index.htm>.

f) Video programmes

Note: These programmes on African ethnography and material culture, two of which have been released also in French, are designed for a variety of audiences including senior high school and university students of anthropology, archaeology, materials science and African studies, the ‘intelligent viewer’ of North American PBS stations, and of course Africans in all walks of life.

As of July 2011, I am in charge of the distribution of all these programs.

2010 The thirteen months of Sukur, Africa’s first World Heritage Cultural Landscape. (49 mins). I was producer, cameraman, editor, scriptwriter and narrator. See <http://www.sukur.info/sukurfilm.htm> or <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Bpol3aDapgM> for a trailer.

1999 Regenerating Sukur: male initiation in the Mandara Mountains. (21 mins.) Calgary: University of Calgary, Advanced Media for learning. I again fulfilled multiple roles.

1995 Black Hephaistos: exploring culture and science in African iron working. (48 mins.) Calgary: University of Calgary, Department of Communications Media. I was director, cameraman, offline editor, and, with David Killick, scriptwriter.

1990 Vessels of the spirits: pots and people in North Cameroon. (50 mins.) Calgary: Department of Communications Media, University of Calgary.

(French version: Demeures des esprits: pots et personnes dans le Nord du Cameroun.)

I was producer, cameraman, offline editor, scriptwriter and narrator.

1988 David, N. and Y. Le Bléis. Dokwaza: last of the African iron masters. (50 mins.) University of Calgary: Dept of Communications Media.

(French version: Dokwaza: le dernier maître de fer africain.)

I produced this program in the field with Y. Le Bléis (Camera: Henri Augé) and later wrote the script, and produced and offline edited both the English and French versions, which were sponsored by the United Steel Workers of America (Canadian National Office).

g) Works submitted

Under revision for the Journal of African History. Late slaving and montagnard responses in and around the Mandara Mountains (NE Nigeria and N Cameroon): a comparative study of the Madagali and Mozogo regions.
