Extra Stuff: So uh... not much to talk about... I spend most of my time doing random things, such as playing cards, chess, badminton, video games etc. Well not really random more or less procrastination in different forms. Case and point I'm late in submitting this summary. I don't really have my picture taken much... so I don't think I have anything beyond the one I have here... I have a memory that likes to pick up useless little facts. Such as... white chocolate isn't really chocolate because the only component of cocoa in white chocolate is cocoa butter and... I'm writing out of things to talk about so... screw it I think I'm going to stop here. Cheers.
